

Spaces with few operators and the lack of complex structure

Javier Méri

Abstract: We show that some real spaces with few operators lack of complex structure in the strongest possible way. This property is used to give an example of a Banach space with trivial group of onto isometries but whose dual has a large group of onto isometries.