A set-theoretic analysis of the quotient problem and the biorthogonal system problem

Stevo Todorcevic

Abstract: We use two set-theoretic techniques to analyse these two well-known and closely related problems from the geometry of Banach spaces. One is based on the P-ideal dichotomy and the other on a construction of normed spaces via finite-dimensional approximations.