

Polina Vytnova

University of Surrey

Rigorous computer algorithms for chaotic dynamics

I will present an effective and efficient approach for computing spectral radius of transfer operator associated to a hyperbolic system. The latter can be subsequently used to estimate parameters that can be approached via the pressure function, such as the Hausdorff dimension of the limit set, Lyapunov exponents, entropy, and moments.