

Fractional Fokker-Planck equation and its applications to finance and insurance

M. MAGDZIARZ, A. WERON (Wrocław)

Abstract

For a fractional generalization of the Fokker-Planck equation we derive the stochastic representation of its solution in the language of subordinated processes. This provides a natural way to Monte Carlo simulations of the sample paths of the underlying stochastic process. Applications to Vasicek model and collective risk theory are presented.

Hugo Steinhaus Center

Institute of Mathematics and Computer Science

Wrocław University of Technology

50-370 Wrocław, Poland

E-mail addresses:

marcin.magdziarz@pwr.wroc.pl

aleksander.weron@pwr.wroc.pl (corresponding author)