Controllability of a Flexible Manipulator with Parallel Drive Mechanism

The article is devoted to analysing the approximate controllability without constrains and constrained controllability with non-negative controls of flexible manipulator with parallel drive mechanism. The considered dynamical system is governed by second order partial differential equation. Defining proper differential operator enabled to transform it into abstract differential equation and apply to it known controllability theorems of such an abstract system.

References