

Counting indices of singular points of polynomial mappings

Zbigniew Szafraniec

Uniwersytet Gdański

There are several natural invariants associated with polynomial mappings which can be expressed as a sum of appropriate indices at singular points. The lecture will present effective algebraic methods of counting some of those invariants.