

Sorting in two species aggregation and chemotaxis

Angela Stevens

Westfälische Wilhelms-Universität Münster, Germany

Abstract

Chemotaxis systems for two species and related non-local aggregation equations are discussed w.r.t. their pattern forming behavior. Conditions for sorting phenomena depending on the strength of the attractive drift, respectively on the structure of the attraction kernels, will be derived.